

VETTED REFERRALS

OVERVIEW

Tried and Trusted

For families with children with special needs, it sometimes takes a little extra planning to make sure activities lead to an enriching, positive, enjoyable experience for all. At CICS, we understand this first-hand and want to help families be better informed by offering information that may help decision making.

CICS is in the process of compiling a growing list of vetted referrals for families with children with special needs to use as a resource. We are looking at not only areas of therapeutic value, but also family-centered activities such as recommendations on restaurants, fun activities and vacation destinations that are special needs- and sensory-friendly. Referrals have personally been used or checked out by CICS members. In order to be on this list, companies/activities must demonstrate commitment to making accommodations for families with special needs children along with being sensory-friendly.

This list is available to CICS patients. Please ask about vetted referrals at your next visit to the office or call us for any specific recommendations. Also, in order to help us create the most comprehensive list possible, we invite families to contact us at info@everychildeverytime.com with any of your own personal recommendations!
